++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Inverness fine, dry, bright. Some drizzle in far west, north.

Today:
Around the northern end of the Great Glen a fine, dry, bright day and feeling warmer than yesterday. Across north and west quite cloudy with some drizzle, most likely later in the day. Winds generally light from the west. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry with prolonged clear spells for most, though lower cloud and some patchy rain occasionally pushing across the far north and west. Winds light. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Monday:
Dry and sunny for most. However isolated, possibly sharp, afternoon showers developing across southern inland areas. Also early drizzle in coastal north and west, becoming confined to Hebrides from mid-morning. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
South mainly dry and sunny. However rather cloudy across the north and east, with low cloud and patchy light rain sporadically feeding in on light northerly breezes.
